

Journal Submission Cover Letter

Professional correspondence for manuscript submission

Corresponding Author · Institution · email@institute.edu

Date: September 28, 2026

To: The Editor, Journal Name

Dear Editor,

Please consider our manuscript, “A concise and informative manuscript title”, for publication in Journal Name.

The manuscript addresses an unresolved problem in [field]. Using [dataset/method], we show that [main result]. This result is important because [specific scientific significance]. The work is well matched to the journal because it will be relevant to readers interested in [audience/topics].

The manuscript is original, has not been published previously, and is not under consideration elsewhere. All authors have approved the submission. Any conflicts of interest and data/code availability statements are reported in the manuscript.

Three points for the editor:

- The central result is [result].
- The methodological or observational advance is [advance].
- The broader implication is [implication].

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Alex Researcher

Corresponding Author